

How ESF works?

Every third person we meet in an Indian city today is youngster. In about seven years the median age of a person in India will be 29 years, making us the youngest nation in the world. Engaging youth in organized efforts to promote environmental sustainability has important implications for youngsters themselves as for as their communities.

Republic of India has 28 States and 8 Union Territories. Environment Security Force will be a national level initiative having its Units at state and union territory level Thus, covering the whole geographical space of our nation. All the State and UT level Units again will have District level Brigades which will be comprising of Block level Companies. We shall enroll our volunteers at Block level. Our management will visit each and every school of all the Blocks of a state for enrollment purpose.

Enrolled volunteers will be provided all the information, knowledge and education to achieve sustainable environment. They will be asked to sit in a competitive examination about the awareness on climate change at Block level. Volunteers standing first, second and third will be awarded with cash prizes while all others will be given participation certificates. Winners of Block level competitions will compete at District level and similarly awarded. Winners at District level will appear in state level competitions. Winners from the states and UTs will be sitting for National level competitions. Meaningless to say that cash prizes will be waiting for them at each level. Besides this these winners will be given Ranks at all these levels.

Strength of the ESF

Besides cash prizes as mentioned above we shall be awarding Ranks to these volunteers at different level. There will be a Director General, ESF at National level and Four Special DGs. All the states will have One Additional DG, ECF and two Deputy DGs. District level winners will be ranked as Company Commanders and block level as Sergeants.
